

Associate of Fine Arts Art & Design

The Associate of Fine Arts (AFA) in Art and Design provides foundational coursework equivalent to the first two years of a Bachelor of Fine Arts (BFA) program. This intensive, studio-based curriculum emphasizes the development of technical skills, creative expression, and critical thinking. Students may declare multiple concentrations, allowing them to build a diverse portfolio for transfer to four-year colleges, universities, or art schools. The program offers broad exposure to various disciplines, preparing students for careers in fine arts, K-12 art education, animation, graphic design, art therapy, curatorial studies, advertising, fashion design, and interior design.

Program Outcomes for Associate of Fine Arts in Art and Design

Upon successful completion of this program, students will be able to:

- Use visual problem solving and creative thinking skills to make works of art.
- Proficiently work with a range of art media and techniques.
- Professionally document and exhibit a body of work that demonstrates artistic voice, concept development, and technical skill.
- Set and define career goals using professional practices in art and design.
- Interpret visual art in its cultural context.

Additional Outcomes – Area of Concentration in Art History

Upon successful completion of this concentration, students will also be able to:

- Recognize artists, movements, themes, styles, and artwork related to various cultures and art historical time periods.
- Research and interpret works of art as formal constructs related to social and cultural contexts.
- Respond verbally and in writing to works of art and to historical and theoretical material related to art.

Additional Outcomes – Area of Concentration in Ceramics and Sculpture

Upon successful completion of this concentration, students will also be able to:

- Proficiently work with a wide range of ceramics and sculpture materials, tools, techniques, and processes to create work from concept to finished product.
- Apply the elements and principles of design to communicate aesthetic and conceptual intent.
- Professionally document a body of work that demonstrates artistic voice, concept, and technical skills in ceramics or sculpture.

Additional Outcomes – Area of Concentration in Drawing and Painting

Upon successful completion of this concentration, students will also be able to:

- Proficiently work with a wide range of drawing and painting materials and tools, techniques, and processes to create work from concept to finished product.
- Apply the elements and principles of design to communicate aesthetic and conceptual intent.
- Professionally document a body of work that demonstrates artistic voice, concept, and technical skills in drawing and painting.

Additional Outcomes – Area of Concentration in Graphic Design

Upon successful completion of this concentration, students will also be able to:

- Discuss the roles of tools and technology in the creation, reproduction, and distribution of visual messages.
- Use 2D and 3D software programs, including applications such as modeling, animation, illustration, video, sound, photography, print and web authoring.
- Solve communication problems, including identification, research, analysis, generation of alternative solutions, prototyping and user testing, and evaluation of outcomes.

Additional Outcomes – Area of Concentration in Animation and Film

Upon successful completion of this concentration, students will also be able to:

- Demonstrate proficiency in hand-based and digital-based drawing, animation, video, storyboarding, character design and 3D environments.
- Use 2D and 3D software programs, including applications for modeling, animation, video, sound, illustration, photography, and print, to express ideas and solve design problems.
- Identify the distinct roles, methods, and vocabulary associated with programmers, designers, and artists in both individual and collaborative design processes.

Additional Outcomes – Area of Concentration in Photography and Digital Arts

Upon successful completion of this concentration, students will also be able to:

- Use tools, materials, equipment, and processes to work from concept to finished product in photography and digital arts.
- Use 2D and 3D software programs, including applications for photography, print, illustration, web authoring, modeling, animation, sound, and video.
- Apply the elements and principles of design to communicate aesthetic and conceptual intent.
- Professionally document a body of work that demonstrates artistic voice, concept, and technical skills in photography and digital arts.

Additional Outcomes – Area of Concentration in Studio Arts

Upon successful completion of this concentration, students will also be able to:

- Proficiently work with a wide range of art materials, tools, and techniques to create work from concept to finished product.
- Apply the elements and principles of design to communicate aesthetic and conceptual intent.
- Professionally document a body of work that demonstrates artistic voice, concept, and technical skills.

Additional Outcomes – Area of Concentration in Art Education

Upon successful completion of this concentration, students will also be able to:

- Proficiently work with a wide range of art materials, tools, and techniques to create work from concept to finished product.

- Design and deliver an art lesson plan, demonstrating effective preparation, instruction, and classroom engagement.
- Apply the elements and principles of design to communicate aesthetic and conceptual intent.
- Professionally document a body of work that demonstrates artistic voice, concept, and technical skills.
